Tornado strikes Smith plant, stores, homes

By CARY SCHNEIDER and BILL WINTER

Today dawned on a northeastward swath of destruction that included damaged homes and businesses in Granite City, downed power lines, uprooted trees and utility posts, and piles of debris.

A tornado touched down here at 8:28 p.m. Sunday, causing no deaths, but millions of dollars in damage.

The wreckage today included cars, trees, limbs and portions of buildings, roofs and downspouts, some wrapped in grotesque shapes around parked vehicles.

May Day 1983 will be long remembered by those who experienced the onslaught of ultra-powerful wind and rain. Despite the severe losses, only minor cuts and bruises were reported by those in the storm's path.

Major centers of damage included the idle A.O. Smith Corp. plant, which is scheduled for a resumption of auto parts production in 1985.

Nameoki Grade School is closed today due to storm damage, but all other schools opened.

Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center sustained extensive damage and its parking lot was utilized by police and other emergency personnel as a command post during the night.

Nameoki Village Shopping Center also was hit, as was the Pontoon Road

When the tornado hit last night, it unleashed a torrent of curiosity-seekers — hundreds flooded into Nameoki Road before squad cars could plug the main traffic arteries.

A broken line and roamed down blind streets, whose street lights had been plucked out by winds strong enough to throw concrete blocks, a small building and a large truck into the road.

Busy police night

All available police officers were called out to duty at 8:40 p.m. Sunday, 13 minutes after two patrolmen saw a "twister" approaching the city from a vantage point on the Chain of Rocks Canal levee.

Granite City Officers Curt Walkenbach and Donald Petrillo apparently were the first to observe and then feel the effects of last night's tornado at 8:27 and radioed the information to headquarters.

At 8:28 p.m., the second of two warning signals was sounded over the city's siren network. The warning devices were initially activated at 8:02 p.m. Sunday.

The officers were serving warrants in the Rock Road area and positioned their squad car on the canal levee to serve as a spotter's post after receiving information that a tornado might be heading toward the community. Police Chief Ronald J. Veiter said today.

Verdicts clear way for Brimberry trial May 16

By PATHAY LUTZ for the Press-Record

After only five hours of deliberation for a three-week-long trial, a jury of seven women and five men found Collinsville Attorney James Massa and Certified Public Accountant Duane Skinner guilty of all 43 counts of conspiracy and mail fraud in the Stix and Co. embezzlement scheme.

According to Assistant U. S. Attorney Terry Adelman, testimony given in the case proved that Massa and Skinner were guilty because they had "willful knowledge" of Thomas Brimberry's scheme to steal $16 million from the now-defunct firm.

Neither Massa nor Skinner looked at the jury as the verdict was read. Massa stared at the table and Skinner looked straight ahead.

U. S. District Court Judge John F. Nangle set the sentencing date for May 27. Massa, 50, faces up to 145 years in prison and Skinner, 34, is facing a maximum sentence of 90 years for their involvement in the scheme.

Massa's attorney, F. Lee Bailey, said that "it seems like a good idea" to appeal the decision, and hinted that the hour-long instruction given to the jury by Judge Nangle may have been prejudicial.

Because of a "gag order" issued by Judge Nangle, attorneys are barred from giving interviews until after the conclusion of Thomas Brimberry's trial, which has been set for May 16.

In closing arguments on Thursday, the defense attorneys contended that Massa and Skinner were "victims" in the swindle, but prosecuting attorneys argued that Massa's and Skinner's participation in the scheme was "essential" for Brimberry to carry out the swindle.

Securities and Exchange Commission Attorney Ronald Kane argued that Massa and Skinner were "willing participants."

"Massa and Skinner knew there was unlawful activity going on," Kane said. "They knew they were concealing the source and nature of Tom Brimberry's assets."

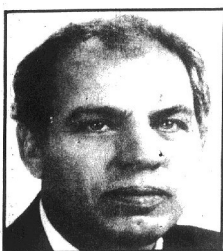

According to Kane, Massa was Brimberry's "respectable-looking man to front for him" and Skinner was "Brimberry's bag man" who purchased and transported thousands of dollars in cashier's checks to pay for Brimberry's Arizona home.

Kane cited Massa's $200 per hour consulting fees and Massa's flagrant purchase of Stix stock which enabled him to "control" Stix as proof of Massa's involvement. "Stix and Co. was looted by Tom Brimberry, helped

Water boil order is rescinded

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER of the Press-Record

A transformer at the main pumping station of the Illinois-American Water Company failed last Thursday, making it necessary for the company's 16,000 area customers to boil their water before consumption. The boil order lasted for approximately 24 hours before it was lifted at 11 a.m. Friday.

At approximately 6 a.m. Thursday, following an electrical thunderstorm which occurred the night before, the transformer, located at the sub-station at the corner of 23rd and Logan streets failed. Illinois-American officials believe the failure to be "storm related."

After Wednesday night's storm, the transformer faltered for about six hours, officials say, before it failed, cutting the system's water production by a third. The substation is one of three Illinois-American Water Company stations that serve approximately 70,000 people in the Quad-City area and surrounding townships.

The other substations, a raw water intake station and a booster station, are located in Chouteau and Nameoki Townships.

As a result of the failure, the system, which normally pumps nine million gallons of water a day, dropped to five million gallons, said Robert Jackson, manager of the water company.

According to Jackson, water company officials were aware of the problem about midnight Wednesday, following the thunderstorm, and began taking necessary steps to repair the substation.

But, Thursday morning, when Quad-Cityans awoke and their need for water equalled the diminished supply, the water pressure dropped. Adding to the water system's woes was the reversal of water when the gates from East St.

Louis were opened. According to Jackson, when the water pressure dropped, officials supplemented the Granite City water supply with that of East St. Louis. The initial opening of those gates and the low water line pressure combined, which caused the discolored water many water customers in the Quad-City area experienced Thursday.

Normally, the water pressure in the supply lines is 50-pounds-per-square-inch, Jackson explained. With that much pressure in the lines, the sediment in the supply lines lays undisturbed.

But when demand increased, the water pressure in the supply lines dropped to about 15 pounds per square inch, Jackson said. That drop in pressure necessitated the boil order.

Although the pressure had been restored, the boil order was not lifted until 11 a.m. Friday when the water company received water test results from the Environmental Protection Agency.

Although there have been partial city water boil orders in the past, this was the first time since the Clean Water Act of 1973 that the entire Quad-City area has received such an order.

Water company officials estimate the cost of replacing the 15-year-old transformer to be $35,000.

Customers crying

lamps and candles, had to make their way through mud, water, eddies, positioned piles of lumber and bits and pieces of roofing in an area of damage that zigzagged along Nameoki Road from the K-Mart Store to north of the International House of Pancakes.

IHOOP employee David Becher described the scene in the restaurant as "pretty much confusion and panic." Some children were screaming and employees were trying to calm customers, he said.

"It was a wild experience," fellow employee Patrick Whitehead explained. "People were running in. The windows were shaking."

Long John Silver employee Greg Jackson said customers were upset. "A little girl was crying and screaming and a little boy was pretty upset."

Some of those who had been eating at restaurants lining Nameoki, tried to find their way home after abandoning automobiles with windows shattered by the storm.

A brown Mercury stood at the entrance of Tacole's Restaurant, 3900 Nameoki Road, left by a woman driver as she fled. But the car, which it ripped out all the car's windows, including the rearview mirror.

According to store owner Joe Morrison, the unharmed motorist ran in to the restaurant just as the store's front glass was crashing into tables. Customers and employees had safely cried. He called the incident the only humorous side of the storm story.

When he first arrived on the scene, Morrison said, "It was just wall-to-wall people in the streets everywhere."

Although he planned to reopen the restaurant at noon today, the lengthy power outage Sunday night threatened his food stock, which he said might have to be transferred to another store.

Across the street on Amos Avenue, Thomas Hundley of Hundley Auto Sales & Leasing Co. walked through his parking lot. "It got all 20 of them — every one of my cars," he said.

"The windows are broken out. The headlights are gone."

He had just arrived from his home on Lynch Avenue, another storm-damaged site.

Hundley used a flashlight to show how tiny sections of shingles from surrounding buildings had penetrated the roof of a vinyl-topped car.

"I'm not an estimator, but I think my building is going to have to be torn down and rebuilt," said Hundley. "But I can't tell what conditions are like tonight."

Further on down the road, patrolling officers inspected the State Loan and Savings Association. Its white columns that had flanked the entrance were scattered sections in the front shrubs.

Eva Clemons, 3818 Nameoki Road, looked out her screen door, as her son-in-law and his neighbors from Godfrey ran a well-organized recovery operation. Ed Rice, one of those assisting from Godfrey, was busy cutting boards on sawhorses that had been quickly set up in the Clemons' driveway. Two women used shovels to pile mounds of debris away from the building.

"My husband was on the west side of the house," Mrs. Clemons said. "It's just strange. The wind just let's go. All the windows are out. Papers from the office are all over the house. It's a mess. We'll find out what happened tomorrow."

business and residential district between Nameoki and Johnson roads.

Damaged stores included Central Hardware and Schmuck's. At the latter, refrigeration equipment was hit and front windows were blown in. A large sign from the hardware store was blown onto Nameoki Road, and was damaged to the rear of that store.

Long John Silver's restaurant was heavily damaged. A Fox Photo sales booth was blown off its base and the middle of Nameoki Road and a truck trailer utilized for reclamation of aluminum was blown onto the site.

There was damage to the Great China restaurant, the Farm Fresh store at Crossroads, and an area near the K-Mart building.

Creative Travel and O'Brien's Tire Co. sustained broken display windows and interior damage. At the travel agency office, an employee who was sweeping the highway scrambled to safety under a counter when the storm struck.

Signs were damaged at the Tacole's restaurant, buildings and the Farm Fresh store at Pontoon and Johnson roads. A bank advertising sign on Pontoon Road was blown partly over, and the store was damaged. At Nameoki United Presbyterian Church.

Possible gas leaks at damaged buildings were a concern during much of the evening.

Autos, volunteers officers and a backhoe were used to cordon off devastated areas last night, and Nameoki Road (Highway 200) was closed to most traffic. Sightseers' cars closed most main arteries, making it difficult for emergency vehicles to reach the area. State police and county deputies were requested to aid in the traffic control, as were all off-duty officers and auxiliary policemen.

Police today were still barring vehicles from turning north at intersections along Johnson Road or from entering Fehling Road.

Numerous power outages occurred, some exceeding an hour and 20 minutes in duration. A few homes were without power all night.

Nameoki Road from Pontoon Road south had the appearance of a war zone last night. Rubble and broken glass covered the four-lane street and walking was difficult and dangerous due to fallen power lines in the puddles. Street lights were dark and the only illumination was provided by flashlight and police cars' headlights and flashing red lights.

Several autos parked on the Crossroads road were blown off their bases by the storm. One light pole in the Crossroads lot was twisted into an "S" shape by the odd forces of the tornado.

A "twister" cloud was seen by a number of local residents, including Granite City police officers in a patrol car. The cloud was surrounded by the force of the wind on the levee.

The first tornado warning siren was activated at 8:02 p.m. and the second as the destructive part of the storm at 8:28.

A storm warning earlier in the evening indicated the areas of greatest danger were in St. Charles County, Mo., and the area north of Alton. But new storm series continued to pass through this metropolitan area, and one headed directly for O. S. Smith and the busy Nameoki Road commercial section.

Damage at the Smith plant alone was estimated tentatively at up to $3 million. The damage occurred at The Colonades nursing home on West Pontoon Road.

Debris littered streets and yards along Moro Avenue, between Ball Avenue and Pontoon Road, and on Venice Avenue in the same vicinity. Several front porch roofs were damaged.

Rubble piled up against buildings along the east side of Nameoki Road. A tall street lamp standard was overturned at Pontoon and Nameoki roads, and damage was reported along North Street.

With the past winter unusually mild, Quad-Cityans have been "paying" for it during a spring of frequent rains, high winds and generally weird weather patterns.

For several days, a combination of fronts had caused a regular procession of storms from the southwest. Then, a tornado watch was declared and continued for 26 hours, from 9 p.m. Saturday to 11 p.m. Sunday. The U.S. Weather Bureau correctly warned residents 12 hours before the tornado in front of the Schmuck's Market, Granite City police set up their command station. State and county police, Army personnel, Civil Defense workers, Auxiliary Police and the Madison County Canine Corps had gathered.

Portions of the supermarket's floor-to-ceiling glass front were missing and its giant curtains fluttered in the mild breeze that followed the violent storm.

Inside, store manager Dan Byrd and about 15 employees moved grocery carts, loaded with glass, away from the window. The manager was anxiously awaiting three refrigerated trucks from St. Louis to remove the frozen food, in case power did not return.

Byrd said he was called to the store by a night porter who was cleaning the floors when a section of the roof was ripped off and the front damaged. The porter was protected by the back shelves. "He said the whole place is blowing up," Byrd related.

In front of Schmuck's, a tractor-trailer, used to collect recycled materials, lay overturned partially in the street. A concrete slab flanked by two flower pots was all that remained of the Fox Photo site. The building laid in chunks in Nameoki Road. A swivel chair peeked from the rubble. A stack of film envelopes spilled on to the street from a torn cardboard box.

Long John Silver's Sea Food Shoppe Area Supervisor James McCann said the tornado picked up 10- and 12-ton refrigeration units and moved them about a foot across the roof. As he spoke, employees were busy moving fish into a cooler. McCann would transfer the food to a Collinsville store.

Two employees were treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center where they were cut by flying glass. McCann praised the actions of crew leader Wayne Peterson of Granite City, who was hurt protecting another.

"One of the women employees went to shut the door when it flew open. He ran out, knocked her down and shielded her."

That conditions were such that tornadoes might form here.

Springfield, Mo., had been hit Friday night by a storm that took two lives and caused $15 million damage.

Last night, tornado targets included Wright City, Mo.; O'Fallon, Mo.; the area around St. Charles, Mo.; Madison County, Mo.; the Country Club Estates subdivision, the Montclair area of Edwardsville, Main Street in Lebanon, and Greenfield north of Alton.

A storm related death occurred in the vicinity of Effingham, Ill. The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals was to conduct on-site public zoning hearings today and Wednesday on the following requests:

At 9:45 a.m. today, the board was to consider a petition of Mary Margaret requesting placement of a mobile home in Chouteau Township along West Chain of Rocks Road next to John's Fishing Lake. At 10:05 a.m. today, the board was to consider a petition from Morris B. Chapman for placement of a mobile home at 5200 Nameoki Road.

On Wednesday, May 4, the board will meet at 9 a.m. to consider a request from John Stewart to rezone a tract of land to a general manufacturing district in Chouteau Township. The site is on Truck Plaza, Route 3 and Chain of Rocks Road.

Workshop on Grief at Niedringhaus

For the next four weeks a special Workshop on Grief will be held in the chapel of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, in May. The Rev. John Read, pastor of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, will be the leader of the study group.

The study is designed for anyone who has experienced grief in the past few years by the loss of a spouse or loved one or close friend. Grief is also an experience following the loss of personal items and sometimes triggers the same emotional problems.

The study is designed to help persons understand their feelings and how best to cope and overcome. The sessions are open to the public and all interested persons are urged to attend, according to the Rev. Louis Frick, host pastor.

CHARGE YOUTHS NEAR RAILROAD

After learning that three youths were climbing on tri-level railroad cars carrying new autos, near Wilson Park Lane at 3:10 p.m. Saturday, officers went to that area and saw the youths walking on Indiana Avenue. The trio began to run through residential yards when squad cars approached, but all were caught in an alley off Benton Street, reports said.

Two 15-year-old Granite City youths and a 14-year-old Edwardsville boy were booked on charges of disorderly conduct. All were released to relatives on notices to appear in juvenile court.

17 injured in storm

Sunday's storm left 17 Quad-Cityans injured, none of them seriously. A spokesman for St. Elizabeth Medical Center said that 14 were treated and released.

Those injured were: Wayne R. Peterson, Kimbly Ross, Edna Carter, Agnes Sanders, Kirk Sanders, Ted Sanders, Willie Dale, Amanda Blackwell, Mary Zerlin, Harold Carter, Paula Myint, Adam Myint, James Myint, Harold Walker, Andrea Forchard and Cheryl Forehand.

No time for Uncle to be asleep

The stock market broke the 1,200 barrier Tuesday, but not all segments of the economy are showing signs of recovery. For example, is the federal administration too sleepy, too complacent in allowing the domestic steel industry to suffer pain and perhaps permanent injury?

Yes, in the opinion of R. P. Simmons, Allegheny Ludlum Steel chairman, who gave $500 to Ronald Reagan's 1980 presidential campaign, but in 1982 led a group of executives and union leaders in a protest march down Pennsylvania Avenue.

This administration has done nothing meaningful to effectively deal with a massive trade problem.

As he saw it in October, "We are being destroyed. It would be nice to say that, six months later, things are now different; but there has been little visible progress, despite a new quota and surcharge on steel shipped from Europe.

There were 153 international steel trade complaints in 1982, compared to only 25 in 1977. And a new Associated Press survey shows unemployment totals 136,000. Mills are operating at 50 percent or less of their capacity, 200 facilities have closed permanently since 1974, and imports in 1982 rose to 22 percent of the domestic market.

Like the auto industry, steelmakers are perceived by some to have created, or added to, their woes by mismanagement and by labor costs. Appearing to substantiate this, U.S. Steel wants to import British steel. But pay cuts were agreed to in March when a 3½-year nationwide pact was signed, and producers promised to reinvest wage savings in steel facilities.

Robert Peabody, American Iron and Steel Institute president, says astonishing internal progress has been made by the steel industry. He believes that any further recovery rests on changes in government policies. Even if there is a general economic upturn this year, he feels that steelmaking may still be in deep trouble.

Fair "fair trade" is essential. And it is unlikely to become a reality unless Uncle Sam wakes up to the danger and enforces it.

Make car insurance mandatory

Secretary of State Jim Edgar and his 1982 election opponent offered differing proposals for mandatory auto insurance. Edgar's was a small, relatively inexpensive plan; Jerry Cosentino's was more extensive and expensive.

Edgar's proposal has been given a bipartisan flavor in the new General Assembly, and it has passed the House Insurance Committee. It would crack down on drivers who refuse to carry liability insurance, but it would not overburden the insurance industry nor strain the budget of the secretary's office.

It would require minimum liability coverage of $15,000 for the injury or death of one person, $30,000 for the injury or death of all persons involved in an accident, and $10,000 for damage to property. Owners would name their insurance company and list the policy number on their vehicle registration application.

When a car is stopped for a traffic violation, police could check for proof of coverage; lack of proof could lead to issuance of a ticket. But producing proof of insurance in court would cause the charge to be dropped.

For a first-time conviction, the owner could be fined $250 and given a three-month suspension of driving privileges. Second and later convictions would result in $500 fines and six-month suspensions.

The cost to Edgar's office might be as low as $500,000, since no special files would have to be kept and most processing could be handled by present employees. The secretary could monitor compliance with a random sampling of registered motorists.

There are more than a million uninsured autos on Illinois roadways, and the injuries and damage they cause run into tens of millions of dollars—costs that insured drivers have to bear.

Ideally, liability insurance should be as much a part of motorizing as the driver license and the vehicle license plates. Legislators ought to enact the Laurino-McAuliffe bill as a sensible addition to existing laws.

Contents city harrasing candidate's family

On April 25, my parents, Mary and Joseph Marsala, owners of Marsala Rentals, received a visit from the Madison fire chief, Madison building inspector and state fire marshal. This visit was to do an inspection, because of alleged complaints received by the Madison Police.

The fire chief was asked what the nature of the complaint was and he responded that he was unsure. When asked which building he wanted to inspect, he responded, "All of them."

He was asked again of the type of complaint and who had lodged the alleged complaint. The response was, "A citizen."

He also was asked if the inspection had anything to do with my running for alderman against the city's incumbent on April 12. He would not respond.

When asked if any other buildings were going to be inspected in Madison, he stated "No," and when asked why not, he stated because no complaints had been received on them.

The inspection was done to four apartment buildings and there were a few discrepancies found, which I imagine can be found on any property, but my questions to the city administration are, "Why are my parents, who own and operate a respectable business, being harassed because I chose to run for political office against a city-backed candidate? Why are they the only people in Madison to have to have their property inspected? Why couldn't the fire chief state the alleged problem, and where?"

I feel the safety of our tenants comes first and have always done my best to insure this.

Soft drink industry aiding area corn market

To the Editor:
A new market for corn has just opened its doors. PepsiCo, Inc., the only soft-drink company to have not approved fructose (corn syrup) in their mainline bottled and canned primary product, just announced it would use 50 percent High Fructose Corn Syrup (HFCS) in its bottled, canned, and pre-mixed Pepsi-Cola and regular Pepsi-Free.

What this means to corn farmers is a new market that will utilize 625 million pounds of HFCS, or approximately 19 million bushels of corn. This, coupled with Pepsi's previous approval for 50 percent HFCS usage in their fountain syrups, will make Pepsi's total demand for fructose 750 million pounds or approximately 23 million bushels of corn.

Maurice Gordon, chairman of the newly established Illinois Corn Marketing Board and a farmer from Rantoul, stated in a telegram to Roger Enrosi, president and chief executive officer of PepsiCo, Inc., Illinois corn farmers appreciate this new demand that your market has created and the impact it will have in the future."

According to a recent University of Illinois study, "Economic Impacts of Corn Utilization in the Sweetener and Fuel Alcohol Industries," a 10 million bushel increase in corn utilization will cause a one-half cent per bushel increase in the price of corn. Gordon commented

Says Madison majority favors Mayor Sasyk

To the Editor:
I would like to respond to Mr. Chomko's claim of Mayor Sasyk "losing his grip." In a democracy, the voters decide who gets a "grip" and how long they get to keep it.

The choices in the aldermanic election were clear cut. Voters could express satisfaction and confidence in the administration's programs and policies with a vote for administration-backed candidates or they could show disapproval and a desire for change by voting for those opposing the administration.

On Tuesday, April 12, the majority of voters made his choice. They chose a proven record of progress and realistic plans for progress in the future. Perhaps they had their fill of unending negative criticism and, perhaps, they doubted the fiscal credibility of candidates who promised more city services and hiring while cutting their taxes at the same time.

I would hope that groups or individuals purporting to "speak for the majority" would do so with more care in the future. The majority spoke decisively for itself April 12.

What if I get drunk and I'm driving and I have an accident? Who do I blame? The manager of Corral, because she told me I had to have a driver's license to be served?

by James Massa and Duane Skinner, he charged.

Bailey refuted Kane's charges, saying that the Securities and Exchange Commission, Stix auditors, independent auditors, and Massa were all "fooled" by Brimberry. "Gross negligence" by the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, and Stix auditors were "the watchdogs who fell down year after year" as they allowed Brimberry to steal millions for five years. The prosecution of Massa was meant to "deflect the blame it (the government) so richly deserves. If you are going to shoot Jim Massa, then for goodness sake, put the rest of them up there, too," Bailey said.

Bailey also charged that the evidence given by the government failed to prove Massa's direct involvement in or knowledge of the scheme. Bailey asked the jury for an "all-or-nothing" verdict for Massa, saying, "Hook him for everything, if it (the jury) believes Massa was in on the scheme or acquit him of all of the charges."

Skinner's attorney, Robert Rice, said that his client was "caught up in the cross-fire" between the government and Brimberry, and that Skinner had no idea that Brimberry's wealth came from stolen funds. "It was easy to be fooled by Brimberry's apparent wealth," Rice contended. "Who would have thought that this man's spending man was spending stolen money?"

Admitting that Skinner was an "unwitting tool" in Brimberry's scheme, Rice insisted that Skinner was not the type to "knowingly defraud" anyone. "He's not a threat or a future threat to society," Rice said.

In an emotional closing argument, Assistant U. S. Attorney Terry Adelman scoffed at defense arguments which implied that Massa and Skinner were merely victims. "In the case, saying, 'Massa is a knowledgeable person, a sophisticated person... Skinner was a partner in an accounting firm. It's not exactly like we have two helpless people here.'"

Refuting Bailey's contention that Massa did not know of Brimberry's scheme, Adelman argued that everyone associated with Brimberry knew about the swindle. "We know that everyone who had an account at Stix, except James Massa, knew what was going on there," Adelman said. "This is a ridiculous story."

Adelman attacked Massa's testimony that he opened several trusts and drew up articles of incorporation for several firms using the maiden names of Sally Maeras, Janice Brimberry, and Helen Miller because "it's not illegal for women to use other names. How many people do you know go out and open a bank account in their maiden name?" Adelman charged.

Referring to the $7 million in stocks that were given to Massa by Brimberry, Adelman suggested Massa's guilt because he had never drawn up any written agreements concerning the "gift." "There is no documentation. Zero. Zip," Adelman said.

Adelman also dismissed Bailey's statement that Jim Massa would not have been involved in such a scheme because it was bound to fail, saying, "This is no defense. Not one bit."

Citing Skinner's denial of a conversation with Arthur Miller Jr. in which he and Miller allegedly discussed Brimberry's threats against Miller if Miller told the IRS and Stix about Brimberry's activities, Adelman said, "That conversation makes Skinner guilty of everything if it did happen, and it did happen."

Skinner was Brimberry's "gofer," Adelman stated, and he submitted to Brimberry's demands for money. "Why would a CPA become a 'gofer'?" Adelman asked. "Cash money is the reason."

Charging that only Skinner's involvement in the swindle would allow him to live with Brimberry "after he's (Skinner) been made a fool of — after he knows he's (Brimberry) a thief."

"The normal reaction would be to punch him (Brimberry) in the mouth, not to let his wife and kids near him," Adelman argued. "Skinner moved out there because he's in it up to his neck," Adelman added.

Skinner was found guilty on eight charges of mail fraud, four counts of transporting forged checks across state lines, and one count of tax evasion. Massa was charged with 12 counts of mail fraud, five counts of securities fraud, five counts of violating securities laws, six counts of wire fraud, and one count of conspiracy.

News notes

Legislation by State Rep. Sam Wolf would create a state archives advisory board, increase from 30 to 90 days the time in which public officials must file financial statements, and limit the sales tax rates of home-rule governmental agencies.

The growing list of those backing formation of a citizen utility board includes Gov. James R. Thompson.

State senators voted 31-25 to allow the governor to cut state pension contributions.

Hospitals would have to abide by state-set budgets under a health care cost control bill advancing in the Illinois Senate. It would limit hospital revenue for three years while health costs are studied.

State senators' finance and credit regulation committee will begin hearings tomorrow on closing a legal "loophole" that is enabling Missouri-based General Bancshares to operate and add more banks in Illinois. The company ran banks in Quincy, Benton and Zeigler when the 1957 Illinois Bank Holding Company Act was adopted, banning cross-state acquisitions. Since then, the firm has bought banks in Belleville and Bend and is attempting to buy a Mount Vernon bank.

This is Tax Freedom Day for the typical American worker, who has earned just enough in 1983 to pay all his federal, state and local taxes, if all the dollars were devoted to taxes. The day arrived five days earlier than in 1981 but much after the date, Feb. 9, in 1929.

Completion of the local segment of Interstate 255 is vital to later construction of Freeway 413 north to Alton, officials there say.

The Illinois House Public Utilities Committee voted 6-3 last week to reject an elected state commerce commission.

A legal opinion by the General Accounting Office says cities and counties not complying with federal air quality standards are not necessarily subject to loss of federal highway aid. The GAO said S. law does not require or authorize the Environmental Protection Agency to cut off funds unless areas have failed to develop plans for meeting the standards or failed to carry out those plans.

Charge that Weber mishandled prosecution of James Barton

Charges against Madison County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton should be dismissed because of the prosecution's misconduct in handling the case, J. William Lucco, Barton's attorney, argued in a pretrial hearing Thursday.

Lucco contended before Chief Associate Judge Edward Ferguson that Madison County State's Attorney Donald Weber has a statement that prejudiced the case. Judge Ferguson is to rule later on the motion to dismiss charges against Barton of bribery, conspiracy and official misconduct.

The state's attorney's office denies misconduct in handling the case. Assistant State's Attorney Robert Trone spoke for Weber at the hearing and said that Barton had not been denied due process of law.

Lucco contended that a sealed envelope from Weber delivered to Lucco's office April 7 was intended to intimidate the defense. Neither Lucco nor Weber would discuss the contents of the envelope.

The defense attorney further cited various news stories in which Weber made allegedly prejudicial statements about the Barton case. Lucco also alleged that Weber made improper comments concerning Barton at a private party March 12.

Trone, however, contended that the comments were not made with malicious intent, although he did concede that the remarks might have been inappropriate.

While Lucco cited court cases establishing precedents for dismissing charges when a prosecutor acts improperly, Trone countered with cases that say the opposite.

Barton is accused of accepting $1,000 from a landowner to try and influence the vote of Walter "Shang" Greathouse, a member of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals and president of the Metro-East Sanitary District.

The money allegedly was split between the two to persuade Greathouse to vote favorably on a request from William Nichols. Greathouse is charged with official misconduct, bribery and failure to report a bribe in connection with the alleged incident.

Both officials deny any wrongdoing. Lucco already won a motion to suppress from the trial allegedly incriminating statements made by Barton to investigators.

Barton is not related to Granite City Realtor Bob Barton.

Debate rescinding of GC Steel permit

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

Federal environmental officials have invited the state to withdraw its precedent-setting "bubble" permit issued to the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp. here last fall. The permit is dependent on the approval of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The nationally-controversial bubble plan would give Granite City Steel the option of controlling some pollution sources more and other sources less than is required by the federal Clean Air Act, if the end result is decreased air pollution.

According to EPA official Joseph Paiste of Chicago, his agency became wary of the bubble request after "serious technical deficiencies" were found in updated tests conducted by the steel company. The official said private environmental group alerted the EPA to those problems.

Both the state air pollution director and the steel company's environmental officer, however, expressed skepticism that such serious problems exist. Daniel Goodwin, manager of the EPA Division of Air Pollution Control, and Dr. John Manda, vice president of Granite City Steel Environmental Control, said they were both waiting for the federal agency to send them evidence justifying the federal agency's apparent decision to disapprove the plan.

"It has degenerated into a numbers game," Goodwin said. "Those objections are not central to the point. They are trying to beat each other over the head with numbers."

He speculated the latest problems recently pointed out by environmental groups may eventually form the basis for a legal challenge to the bubble or alternate control strategy plan unpopular among environmentalists.

The EPA director's reasons for endorsing the plan, however, are not the same as the steel company's environmental officer, who hopes the bubble plan will free the company from dust house control problems. Goodwin thinks the permit will ultimately serve to halt both road dust problems, providing a short-term benefit, and air here has never met primary standards and he doubts it will by next year.

Also improvements in dust house control technology would prevent a delay in such installations, if they do become necessary, he said.

Whether or not Granite City air meets standards remains to be seen, but it is the "fondlest hope" of the steel company that the bubble plan will have a definite impact on air quality here. Manda said. He called the bubble plan an "outstanding opportunity" to improve conditions in the complexity.

Road and dust controls required by the bubble permit were begun at Granite City Steel last November. According to Goodwin, the state has no immediate plans to comply with the EPA's plans to withdraw the steel company's permit, EPA.

Not spotting the inconsistency earlier was an oversight of the EPA that was pointed out to the agency by the Citizens for a Better Environment and the Environmental Defense Fund.

The EPA now is waiting for a response from the state air control agency before formally rejecting the permit request.

Goodwin backed his opinion by citing a provision in the bubble permit saying dust house controls must still be implemented if primary air quality standards are not achieved in Granite City by December, 1984. The director said air here has never met primary standards and he doubts it will by next year.

Also improvements in dust house control technology would prevent a delay in such installations, if they do become necessary, he said.

ROOF DAMAGE. The vacant A.O. Smith automotive frame plant on Missouri Avenue north of Granite City also was damaged by the tornado which hit Granite City Sunday evening. Portions of the roof, several doors and numerous windows were blown off the building by the tornado. Damage to the building could exceed $1 million.

police vehicle around, pushing it down the side of the levee, twisting the hood and otherwise damaging the car.

"Neither officer was hurt and the unit still is in operation this morning," Chief Veizer noted.

At 9 p.m., Chief Veizer requested assistance from the Illinois State Police and units from Venice and Madison also began to arrive in the area.

About 18 people with minor injuries were treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and released," he said.

Briefly discussing some of the most heavily damaged areas this morning, the chief estimated $250,000 to $300,000 damage and possibly more to the A.O. Smith Corp. plant on Missouri Avenue.

"Lynch Avenue between Wabash Avenue and Maryville Road has extensive damage. Several residences are damaged, including the homes of two officers."

"Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center is bad. The entire back of the Central Hardware store is a mess."

"The Colonades nursing home was very lucky, as the tornado came right past there. I don't believe there were injuries there."

Other residential damage occurred in the Briarcliff area and North Granite City and damage was reported at some Tri-City Regional Port District facilities, Veizer said.

"Generally, it appears it (the tornado) looked east near the end of West Pontoon Road and cut a swath about 100 yards wide on either side of Pontoon Road," he added.

The lack of electricity to operate lift stations was creating serious problems at some homes on Terrace Lane, where sewage was reported backing up into basements, he noted.

Electrical power was being restored to various areas early today, but the activation of power was proceeding cautiously.

Illinois Power workers were checking each residence in a specific section for live wires that might be laying across damaged dwellings before turning the power back on, Chief Veizer said.

Immediately after the tornado hit and even at 6 a.m. today, the area of Pontoon Road and Moro Avenue looked like a battlefield, according to observers.

Pontoon Road from Illinois Route 3 eastward to Wabash Avenue remained blocked to traffic this morning with Illinois State Police cars used as barricades.

Nameoki Presbyterian Church and Frenchie's Bakery, opposite each other in the 1800 block of Pontoon Road, both suffered extensive damage.

The church steeple collapsed onto the roof but remains partially upright, tilted at a crazy angle. Portions of the roof collapsed into Pastor Don P. Pierson's study, the minister discovered about 12:30 a.m. today.

At the bakery, the front plate glass windows were blown inward and a large sign above the door was hanging by strands of twisted metal. The shop's interior was full of broken glass and water, with packages of potato chips and peanuts amid other items littering the floor.

The roof and doors of a pop-up camper were lodged in a tree at 1724 Moro, where two huge trees about 70 feet tall were split down the middle.

Two heavy asphalt and concrete weights linked by a thick cable were wrapped around a tree in the yard, which was littered by roofing shingles, pieces of tarmac and slits of metal.

Across the way, awnings were torn from houses, sheds split apart, and a white metal fence around the Mike Tondas home at 1801 Pontoon Road was torn apart, with sections of fencing missing.

About midnight, an officer at the scene said it appeared Nameoki Grade School sustained severe structural damage at the rear of the building. A bicycle rack formerly situated outside the school was at Nameoki Presbyterian Church.

Walter Milton files petition for recount

By GEORGEANN McGEHE of the Press-Record

Granite City Sixth Ward Alderman-elect, Woodrow "Woody" Moad is expected to take office Tuesday, while the man he apparently defeated by two votes, Walter Milton, has filed a petition contesting the vote count.

Swearing-in ceremonies for city's three new aldermen and four re-elected aldermen are scheduled to take place at Tuesday's 8 p.m. council meeting.

Moad said he is anxious to begin his term as alderman. "I just wish it (the vote recount) would get over."

On Friday, Madison County Circuit Court had not yet recorded Milton's recount petition, but the petition was in the mail and on its way to Edwardsville by Thursday afternoon, according to Milton. The case is being filed by Attorney Bruce Mattea of Collinsville.

The petition requests a court hearing to determine if a ballot recount should be conducted by the Granite City Board of Elections. The recount to examine ballots cast in the April 12 election would be performed before a judge.

The court could rule on ballots that had been found to be invalid by local election judges.

Sixth Ward residents cast

549 votes for Moad and 547 votes for Milton. The margin had been three vote prior to the official vote canvass conducted by the city.

"Two votes is crazy," Moad commented on Sunday. "I just wish they could have done this (recount) before now."

Besides Moad, new aldermen taking office Tuesday will be Fourth Ward Alderman Phillip Miller and Fifth Ward Alderman Lloyd Bailey (a former alderman). Re-elected were Aldermen Everett Morien, First Ward; Sam Whitmer, Second Ward; Paul Fisk, Third Ward; and Michael Modrusis, Seventh Ward.

Q: I see stories in the local newspapers about millions of dollars in unclaimed assets being held by banks and other financial institutions. Is there any way to guard against this?

A: It's estimated that as many as 10 percent of all Americans own assets which they've simply forgotten about. These include old bank accounts, unclaimed deposits, etc. And, there are ways of guarding against this. The most easily forgotten of all assets are children's bank accounts. It's a good idea to make a deposit or ask for interest to be posted on such accounts at least every year, and every six months, if possible. When you move, be sure to check with utility companies to recover deposits which have been made to your account. If you believe an inactive account exists, begin by contacting the bank which you believe holds the account. If the account is very old, you may have to begin with the state treasurer or unclaimed property division in your state where you believe the account was active.

LITTLE USE. Members of the Mexican Honorary Commission-Mendoza soccer team, Jim Kallahan, Scott Vickers and Sam Mendoza find little comfort under a sheet of plastic as they poke their way off the rain soaked field at Sangamon State University in Springfield Sunday following the postponement of the state championship. Grigsby's Davis selected IBCA Coach of the Year

By STEVE WHITWORTH
of the Press-Record

Jim Davis, coach of the eighth-grade boys' basketball team at Grigsby Junior High School, stresses the importance of discipline and giving the extra effort to his players. That advice paid off in a 13-5 record for Grigsby last season and Davis was named "Junior High Coach of the Year" in District 19 by the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association.

Davis received a plaque commemorating the award Saturday night at the 11th annual Hall of Fame Induction Dinner, sponsored by the IBCA. The event was held on the campus of Illinois State University. The presentation was made by Chuck Rolinski, secretary-treasurer of the IBCA.

Coach Larry Graham of Madison High School, who represents District 19 on the IBCA's board of directors, said, "Jim Davis is one of the top coaches in the area. What people like about him is that he's a hard worker. I don't mean that in a bad way; it's just that he's a real competitor."

Davis has been coaching baseball at Grigsby since the school was opened, but this past season was only his third of coaching basketball. He said that the 13 wins his eighth-graders produced this year were the most ever by a Grigsby team.

"The kids make the opportunity to get an award like this," Davis said. "These eight graders were one of the best group of athletes we've ever had here."

Davis was proud of how well his team competed against the larger schools such as Madison, Edwardsville and Collinsville. Grigsby lost twice to Edwardsville by a total of five points and they beat Collinsville twice by wide margins. They split two regular-season contests with Madison before losing to the Trojans by two points in the conference tournament. The Grigsby coach seemed more eager to talk about his team than about himself. He credited Timmy and Jamie Hogan for much of the team's success. "They were the nucleus of our team, doing most of the scoring," Davis said. "They have tremendous skills for their age in ball-handling and shooting."

Davis also mentioned the center, Gary Crone, who he called an "outstanding athlete." The other two members of his starting five were Greg Lilley and his son, Tim.

"Our team's success was a combination of all five starters putting their abilities together," Davis said. "Also, Rusty Ethridge and Joe Lang came in when our starters were in foul trouble and contributed."

Although some of their opponents may have had more talent, Davis said he felt the quality of his players and their intelligence led to their success. "All of our kids were 'B' students or better," he said. "It showed in our practices and games."

"They corrected their mistakes after being told only once. They did that faster than kids who don't do as well in school. They're all leaders; the other kids in the school look up to them."

In turn, the players look up to Davis. Jamie Hogan said, "Coach Davis is strict in a way. He limits what you do, but it's not like you're locked in."

Hogan came into the season with well-developed skills, as Davis said. But the youngster said the coach helped him improve his attitude.

"My brother and I used to yell a lot at the other kids on the team," Hogan said. "But Coach Davis stopped that."

"He does things in a diplomatic way. He showed me it wouldn't look mature for me to be yelling at my teammates."

It's that type of discipline that Davis said any athlete should have. "You have to try to discipline your players to play your kind of ball game," he said. "I stress discipline in athletics and in their everyday life. I want the team to remember their priorities. I expect good behavior from them when we go on trips. I want them to remember that they're representing the school."

Davis said the hardest part of his job is not expecting too much. "It's easy to forget, sometimes that they're only kids, just 13 or 14 years old," he said. "Sometimes, you expect them to play above their abilities."

Part of what made his job easier with the latest group of Grigsby was their willingness to work, Davis said. "They were really dedicated; they didn't miss practice," he said. "They always wanted to stay that extra ten minutes. They never wanted to leave the gym; they gave that extra effort."

Grigsby's opponents recognized how hard the Grigsby worked. "Other coaches would tell us that our kids always hustle," Davis said. "Our kids played defense. You can teach it to them, but they have to really want to do it out there."

Perhaps, the players learned how to give that extra effort from Davis' example. Chuck Weiss, principal of Grigsby, said, "Jim is the type of person that will devote extra time on weekends and during his vacation."

"He relates well to his kid and they like him and play hard for him," Weiss added. "He's very knowledgeable and he's done a good job coaching."

According to Davis, the easiest part of coaching at the junior high level is the lack of pressure.

"There are a lot of pressures on high school coaches," he said. "But, we're here to teach kids how the program operates in high school. It doesn't matter as much if we win or lose."

The coach said he enjoys teaching the junior high age level because the athletes are still learning. "They don't think they know everything yet," he said. "They're open to your comments and they want to learn."

Davis said the biggest reward is seeing the players improve. "You can see tremendous improvement over just one year," he said. "The kids grow in size and ability."

"I enjoy seeing the kids I've coached go on to succeed in high school and even college," he added. "It's fun to follow them after I've had them."

Davis has a good deal of experience as an official at the high school and junior college levels and he said it has helped him in his coaching. "All coaches should officiate at least one game," he said. "It makes you realize that basketball, particularly, is a difficult game to officiate. Everything happens so fast."

"I know it's hard for a coach to just sit there during a game," he added. "I yell at the officials once in a while, but I know from my own experience how far I can go without getting a technical."

Davis has taught mathematics and social science at Grigsby. He will be teaching business education at Granite City High next year.

"It will be sad to leave this place, but it was my own decision," he said. "This was the best time to make the change to high school. It will be challenging and different, but I'm looking forward to it."

At the awards banquet in Normal Saturday night, Davis said it was a "nice feeling" to hear his name called. He said that his wife, Mary, "was really excited."

"I saw a lot of people I know from officiating and I got a lot of congratulations," Davis said. "It was a lot more than I expected and I was just real proud."

In Belleville East Invitational Warriors finish 11th; Menendez-Sheridan fifth

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

BELEVILLE—Granite City South's third seeded doubles duo, John Menendez and Matt Sheridan, defeated Althoff's pair, Kelly and Abbiez in the consolation championship of the Belleville East Invitational Tennis Tournament to capture fifth place. Their contributions were instrumental to the Warriors' 11th place finish in the eighth annual tournament.

The tournament, which was originally scheduled for Friday and Saturday at Belleville East, West and Belleville Area College, was played entirely on Saturday.

In many cases, at least in the championship matches, athletes put in a full day, playing as many as five matches and 12 sets.

Springfield High won the tourney with a dominating 32 team points, followed by last year's champion O'Fallon with 21 points. Belleville East and Althoff tied for third place with 20 points.

In all, the fifth place Menendez-Sheridan finish was the best the Warriors could muster behind the first place finish of Springfield's Velasco and Suter who breezed to the doubles championship with a 6-1, 6-0 over Belleville West's Meyer and Alvey. Belleville East's first pair Farmer and Marinella captured a three-set victory for third place over O'Fallon's Aregood and Smit. The Lancer duo won 6-1, 3-6, 6-2.

In first doubles competition, Menendez and Sheridan easily disposed of Highland's Johnson Drake in two sets 6-3, 6-0. In the second round, however, things were not as easy for the Warriors.

In the second round, the Warrior pair lost to East's Farmer and Marinella 6-1, 2-6, 7-6. The Warriors were leading in the third set, but were get the match points to clinch the third set.

In consolation action, the quarterfinals, Menendez and Sheridan downed Centralia's Kessler and Jones 6-4, 3-6, and 6-1. The Warrior pair picked up two two-set victories in their final two matches to secure their fifth place finish.

Against Alton in the semis, Menendez and Sheridan defeated Brooks and Voller 6-0, 6-1. In the second set, the Alton duo committed several fundamental errors, eventually surrendering the match.

In first singles, South's Charlie Miles found competition quite difficult. Miles dropped his opening round match to O'Fallon's Mike Davis who overpowered the lanky Warrior 6-0, 6-1. Davis went on to finish fourth in the tourney.

Despite his opening round loss, Miles rebounded in his first consolation bracket match to defeat Centralia's Kent VanCleve 6-3, 7-5.

In the consolation quarterfinals, Belleville East's Curt Connor dropped but one game to Miles, eventually winning 6-0, 6-1.

Collinsville's John Quarengi easily won the first singles competition with a 6-0, 6-2 victory over Springfield's John Wagner. Althoff's Tim Gagen defeated Davis 6-4, 6-4 for third place.

Wood River's Brock Borman won the consolation championship with a 6-1, 6-2 championship over East's Connor.

In second singles, South's Don Kallmayer lost two straight matches. In the first round, Kallmayer lost to Alton's Scott Beer 6-3, 6-3 and later in consolation action, fell to St. Louis University High's Dave Casanova 6-1, 6-1.

Springfield's Mike Stutz won the second singles competition with a three-set 6-4, 3-6, 6-1 victory over Rick Kuehne.

Belleville West's Paul Meyer defeated Craig Lantz of Althoff 6-0, 7-5, 6-4 for third place. O'Fallon's Jerry Lasco defeated Casanova 6-2, 2-6, 7-5 for fifth place.

In second doubles action, Granite City South's Tom Hitt and Jerry Lakin lost a first round match to Belleville East's Ottens and Terschulze 6-3, 6-2.

Ottens and Terschulze were the eventual winners in second doubles. In their second match, a consolation doubles match, the Warrior duo dropped a consolation match to Centralia's Gold and Bleyers 6-1, 6-4.

Granite City's Tom Greco won the sister schools, eight years ago, hasn't won since. Last season's doubleheader was flooded out.

Now, after now being rained out 21 times during the wettest spring in SIUE baseball history, the Cougars have eight more games remaining on their schedule, including the two tomorrow with SIUE-Carbondale, who are 17-14 for the season, probably the worst record posted by Coach Richard (Icky) Jones since he took the Saluki reins 15 years ago.

SIUE's athletic director, Ed Bigham, says the Cougars are a cinch, along with Southeast Missouri State U. at Cape, of drawing one of four NCAA division II tournament bids.

SIUE will very probably be host of the tournament, says Bigham. The Cougars have hosted the regional seven times since they became eligible under Coach Roy E. Lee in 1969.

Cougars down Western 11-4; rained out Sunday

By AL BARNES

For the Press-Record

Yesterday (Sunday) was the 21st rained out game that has frustrated the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team in its drive to a second straight NCAA division II regional tournament bid.

Coach Gary (Bo) Collins and his SIUE Cougars are winging along at a 24-10 clip after nearly demolishing the Western Illinois U. Leathernecks, 11-4, Friday afternoon in a rain-soaked nine-inning contest.

Hitting star for the Cougars at Macomb was Granite City's Tom Greco who blasted a pair of homers in SIUE's 16-hit attack. Both of Saturday's twinbills were rained out. Sunday's pair with St. Francis College of Joliet were washed out too, at Cougar Field.

Tomorrow's important meeting between SIUE-Edwardsville and the Salukis of SIU-Carbondale at Cougar Field starting at 1 p.m. can still be played if the sun comes out today and the wind blows like it normally does on the Edwardsville diamond.

The Cougars, after winning the first two games between the sister schools, eight years ago, hasn't won since. Last season's doubleheader was flooded out.

Bloodworth wins Diamond Gloves by default

ST. LOUIS — Derrick Bloodworth, a 65-pound novice boxer for the Mexican Honorary Commission boxing team, wanted two things in the finals of the St. Louis Diamond Gloves Saturday at Kiel Auditorium.

First of all, he wanted to beat Marcus Terry of the North County Boxing Club to win the title. Secondly, he wanted to avenge a 3-2 split decision loss to Terry on April 22.

Bloodworth won the title, but didn't get revenge. Terry broke his hand Thursday and could not box in Saturday's finals, and Bloodworth won the championship by default.

"He was working really hard this week," his coach, Merce Mendoza, said. "It was going to be his first opportunity to box in a big auditorium. It's a big letdown for him, and it's a big letdown for us because we were looking forward to it."

"A lot of kids box just for the chance to perform in a place like Kiel Auditorium," Mendoza said. "Derrick worked hard all year, and I'm sure he will be ready for next year."

Bloodworth finished the season with an 1-2 record for the MHC. Bloodworth is the third MHC boxer to win a tournament this season.

Mendoza defeat Kickers; face Alton in finals

SPRINGFIELD — Granite City's surviving entry in the Illinois McGuire Cup Soccer Tournament, MHC Mendoza, came from behind Saturday at Sangamon State University to defeat the Kickers (white) of Chicago 3-2. The victory pits the Granite City squad against the Alton Optimists who were 3-0 victors over the Kickers (red) for the Illinois championship.

The championship game was scheduled for Sunday at noon here. But, due to torrential rains, the game was postponed. The championship game is tentatively rescheduled for 5:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Gordon Moore Sports Complex in Alton, and further information may be obtained by calling Ruben Mendoza, coach of the team, at 797-0728.

Winner of that game will play the Indiana State Championship at a local field yet to be determined.

In Sunday's contest, MHC Mendoza was trailing 2-0 at halftime but scored three goals in the second half to secure the victory.

Second half goals for MHC Mendoza were scored by Phil Brewer, Tony Segobiano on a penalty kick and Nathan Crane.

Alton's scores were by powerhouse John Stone and Tim Nazello. Stone picked up the first two and Nazello scored the third.

JUST DUCKY. These Mallard ducks were more at home on the soccer field Sunday at Sangamon State University than the athletes. No sooner than the game had been postponed, because of the because of rain, the pair touched down for a little dip. Granite City's MHC Mendoza was scheduled to play the Alton Optimists for the Illinois McGuire Cup championship Sunday, but for obvious reasons, the game was postponed.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Picking the best competitor

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

In my old, bedraggled and ragged Webster's new school and office dictionary, "competitor" is defined very simply and succinctly as a "noun... arrival."

I, along with most Americans, however, look upon competition as the very heart of our life. We start competing almost from the moment we are born... in school rooms, in business but most important of all, in sports and athletic contests.

In nearly sixty years of reporting sports, I've "covered" some terrific athletes, all of them tremendous competitors. Many, many times I have been asked to pick the most outstanding the very best competitor man, boy or girl or women, I watched from the press box.

These past six months, I have tried to single out just one athlete whom I felt was the ultimate and best competitor I've ever covered.

In baseball, there were, of course, Stan Musial, Babe Ruth, Harry Brecheen, Jackie Robinson, et al. and many, many more. Pro basketball's best was Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics.

Pro football, too, the winner, for my book, was none other than Harold (Red) Grange. Tennis, everything considered, I would have to vote for our own Jimmy Connors.

Finally, however, after compiling list after list of pro stars, I finally finished and was forced to pick just one guy: little Jeff Karandjeff, former winger for the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Cougars.

Per cubic inch, Jeff is, without a doubt, the best athlete I've seen. He has been great for the St. Louis Steamers.

In the process of picking the best pro competitor, it dawned on me that the other side of the coin, the athlete who just loves to play for the love of the game, constitutes a category of athletes who deserve to be singled out for top consideration.

After going over in my mind literally thousands of athletes who could qualify for being picked as the best amateur competitor, I felt that I simply couldn't make a decision.

Instead, I decided to pick out an athlete with whom I had played against and then named him my "Most Outstanding Competitor."

Funny thing, too, was that list was almost wholly made up of tennis players, a game I dearly love to play and watch.

Three of those athletes, strangely enough, were originally from down in Little Egypt. Shortly Dishingin from Cairo, now at Mt. Vernon, Oscar (Oco) Edwards and Alvin Edwards, both from Mound City.

The other was Granite City's own Earnest A. Karandjeff.

Dishingin, hadn't World War II come along, almost surely would have had a career in the Major Leagues. Shorty Dishingin, star in softball and baseball at third base, took up tennis in his mid-thirties. Man, we had some battles.

Oco Edwards, a short and stubby man, was the long-time mayor of Mound City and merchant. He wouldn't give you the time of day on the courts. Al Edwards, a giant of a man, covered the ballroom dancer. Despite his weight, he appeared... and was... light on his feet and covered the court gracefully.

His only fault I could see was his eyesight; he had one rule when in doubt, call them out.

Karandjeff was a battler from the word "go." He gave no quarter nor asked for any. When you played Ernie, you had to be prepared to battle for every single point. Playing him was like hitting against a bang-board... every shot came zipping back at you. He was a perfectionist and I never ceased to be amazed at his range of shots. One afternoon we were battling it out in the shade. I was peering his backhand time and time again. But, the ball kept coming back. Then, suddenly, I realized that he had switched his racket to his left hand and was hitting it back to me.

The series of my matches with Karandjeff started way back around 1957 or thereabouts and continued up until just last year, an indoor match at Edwardsville's Cottonwood Sports Center on Route 159 South.

Ernie was and is a good competitor. The best I've ever played against.

Thanks, E. A., for some great competition. I enjoyed every moment of the matches. I only hope that we can continue to battle it out for at least another 28 years. That'll make me around 100 years old. After that, I think I'll give tennis up and concentrate on watching the women.

Charge three men in GC church burglary

Granite City police executed a search warrant last week at 1803 Collinsville Ave., Madison, and arrested an occupant, Ricky Lee Staleler, 22, and another man, George Donald Hansel Jr., 18, of 2231 State St., in connection with the April 19 burglary at the Victorian Pentecostal Church, 2601 Cayuga St. Items valued at $3,750 were stolen.

Hansel was charged in an informational document with burglary and Staleler was booked on a charge of felony theft.

Paul Edward Cavaness, 27, of 2601 Cayuga St., who resides at an apartment attached to the church building, was arrested later the same day and also was charged with burglary.

Taken from the church were a bass guitar and case, touch tone phone, an amplifier, a cassette deck recorder, an eight-track recorder, electrical connections and cords for sound equipment, three microphones, two public address heads, four PA columns, a toolbox and tools.

Most of the items were recovered, a detective said. Mitimus were issued

Some ambulance fares lower to lure users

By GEORGEANN MCGEE of the Press-Record

The Granite City Ambulance Service will begin offering some trips at less expensive fares to cash in on business currently going to its ambulance service competitors.

Aldermen have unanimously approved cutting by half the charge for non-emergency ambulance runs, usually involving the transfer of nursing home clients or the transportation of patients from one hospital to another.

The cost for moving nursing home clients from within the city to another point in the city will fall from $100 to $50. The fee for moving patients to or from out-of-town medical facilities or locations will drop to $65.

The trips will be made only when there is no emergency use for the ambulances.

If the city's new price strategy is successful, it may add as much as $300,000 annually to the ambulance service's beleaguered budget. The service is expected to be $394,561 in the red by the end of next fiscal year without the extra revenue.

The ambulance service had been supplemented with $200,000 of the city's general revenues, even while it was used by neighboring cities and townships. After they withdrew last summer — following an attempt by the city to recoup some of its losses — the service slipped farther into debt, when other rival city and privately-owned ambulance companies arrived on the scene with lower rates.

"With this price, we hope to get them (non-emergency runs) all," Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman of the ambulance committee, said at a special meeting before the regular council session. "If (the price) was cut down like this, so we can get the business."

Under the current rates, the city was unable to get any of the non-emergency runs. Those calls are considered less risk to collect than others.

The finance committee had questioned the city's ability to support the ambulance staff at its present level with the reduction in runs. Fire Chief Donald Parente had estimated annual calls could drop by half, from about 3,600 a year to 1,800.

"The ambulance service is the most important service we've got," Whitmer said. He is pushing this year for a new ambulance to replace one of the city's aging vehicles.

Venice cable issue could be resolved tomorrow night

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Venice aldermen may make a decision at the tomorrow night's meeting of the Venice City Council to go with a cable television franchising agreement signed last August with CATV Systems or seek a new contract with another company.

Doyle J. Dugans Sr., CATV Systems and Associates franchising manager, sought to have the franchise extended when he addressed the council at its last meeting, but the aldermen delayed a decision until this week, when the cable TV representatives were invited to return.

Dugans was accompanied at the meeting here by Greg Bucy, president of Cybernetic Communications, Inc., of Oklahoma City, Okla., with whom Dugans now is associated, and Mitch Hutchens, a construction contractor, also from Oklahoma City.

Delay in starting construction and installation of cable television in Venice has tried the patience of Mayor Tyrone Echols, who has attempted to contact Dugans to find out the project's status without success for the past three months.

"We are now ready to start building here and in Brooklyn," Dugans informed the Venice aldermen, and Bucy offered to post a $15,000 bond to guarantee performance.

Dugans explained that certain new FCC regulations concerning cable franchises went into effect in March, but he noted the current agreement would remain unchanged for one year, because it was signed prior to the new rules being enacted.

"Basically you've got a deal that nobody else in the country is going to get now and it is very fortunate for the city of Venice," Bucy said.

The current agreement states that Venice will receive five percent of the cable system's gross revenue which, at first, was objected to by Bucy, who contended that such agreements generally call for the city's percentage being prorated into the gross rate for basic service and not for revenue derived from premium channels (movie).

Bucy finally agreed to let the wording in the original agreement stand if the council continues the franchise, but not before several exchanges occurred between Dugans and Bucy, and between Mayor Echols and both businessmen.

Several of the give-and-take remarks were humorous and occasioned some laughter from the council and audience, especially when the mayor counter-attacked, suggesting that an attempt was being made by CATV to change the wording in the contract.

At one point, Bucy assured the mayor it was not his intention to pass the difference (the city's share) to the subscriber. "It's not my intention to let you do it either," Mayor Echols retorted.

Questions went unresolved concerning a head-in tower or business office being constructed in Venice, also stated in the original agreement and brought to Bucy's attention by Alderman Valentine. After first saying there was not going to be a tower, Bucy stated, "I can honor that commitment."

But, he added, a local business office would not require a large staff — perhaps three people at maximum. Some Venice residents may be hired temporarily in the construction phase, Bucy said.

Cost of the cable service still remains the same as previously stated, Bucy said. The monthly base rate for a primary (single) TV set will be $8.95, which includes 14 channels. The monthly rate for secondary television sets will be $2 each. Movie channels made available to subscribers will cost $9 for the first channel and $7 for succeeding channels.

"I'm a bit flustered with all the lost time and I would like to be notified in writing when you get the FCC permit," Mayor Echols told the CATV representatives. "I'd also like to see this agreement incorporated in ink or maybe etched in stone."

STEAL PATIO ITEMS

Several items, including a large barbecue kettle worth $79, four lawn chairs costing $28, and a 10-speed bicycle valued at $89, were stolen from the rear yard at the home of Vera Saggio, 3117 Maryville Road last week.

BOOKED ON WARRANT

Granite City police booked Clarence E. Haynes, 67, of 1218 Oriole St., Venice, last week on a 1982 warrant alleging public indecency.

Term for New Year's crime

Associate Judge Charles V. Romani Jr., presiding in the Third Circuit Court, has sentenced James Williams, 19, of 2250 State St. to four years in prison.

Williams was linked to a New Year's Day residential burglary in Granite City. The charge was filed Jan. 3 and he submitted a guilty plea Feb. 17, appearing later for sentencing.

Honor Lincoln Academy Laureates

The Lincoln Academy Laureates for 1983 were honored Saturday in formal ceremonies at the Academy's Annual Convocation on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Gov. James R. Thompson presided. SIUE President and Mrs. Earl Lazerson and SIU Chancellor and Mrs. Kenneth Shaw, co-hosts of this year's event, said hundreds of the state's most prominent citizens attended.

The 1983 Laureates who received the Insignia of the Order of Lincoln are: —Mike Royko of Chicago, a Pulitzer prize-winning columnist for the Chicago Sun-Times, who writes "in a down-to-earth, no holds-barred style about Chicago, his state and his nation."

—Bobby Short, native of Danville, who is known around the world for his stylish presentation of songs by Cole Porter, Noel Coward, George Gershwin and Rogers and Hart.

—Ralph Newman, a native of Chicago, who has had a distinguished career as a bibliophile, collector of Americana and historical advocate with special focus on the life of Abraham Lincoln.

—Thomas Mulroy of Winnetka, a senior partner in the Chicago law firm, Hopkins and Sutter, who has served in numerous civic roles and has received many awards for his civic activities.

The Lincoln Academy is a nonprofit, nonpartisan and self-perpetuating corporation established in 1965 "to recognize the outstanding contributions made by Illinois citizens to the social, cultural and technological progress of mankind and, thereby, to encourage greater dedication to such progress by all citizens of Illinois." The incumbent governor serves as president of the academy.

Laureates selected in the past have included President Ronald Reagan, cultural leaders, scientists, educators, business and industrial leaders and others who have distinguished themselves as outstanding citizens of the state. Ten categories of achievement are considered in the selection process.

In addition to the Laureates, more than 50 senior college students are named Student Laureates each year and receive $100 scholarships as well as Lincoln Medallions. These awards were presented in December.

The program in the gym at 7:30 p.m. will feature dance groups from the Physical Education Department directed by Waneta Graham and Gloria Smith, physical education teachers.

Debra Fagan, vocal music teacher, is in charge of musical program to be performed by the Middle School Chorus.

The Middle School Band will open the event by playing the National Anthem and will also perform several other selections during the

There is no admission charge for the festival and the public is invited to attend, according to the announcement.

PROBATION AND JAIL FOR SUE BREAK-IN

William Buehler, 23, of 75 Holiday Mobile Homes Court was sentenced in late April to serve two and a half years of probation, with the last 90 days of that time in the Madison County jail. He also was fined $500 and a $50 surcharge by Circuit Judge Philip Rarik.

Buehler was charged Jan. 19 with a burglary at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and was named in a similar charge Jan. 26. Offense dates were not specified.

Two incidents end in arrests

Shawn A. Allen, 18, of 9 William John Court, and a 16-year-old Granite City youth were taken into custody by Pontoon Beach police and turned over to Granite City police last week following two separate incidents in which objects allegedly were thrown from a vehicle.

Mrs. Donna Michaels, 3149 Aubrey Ave., told police that while riding bicycles with her husband, Charles, and their son near Jill and Carlson Avenues, a vehicle swerved toward the family and a glass bottle was thrown from the auto, hitting her husband's bicycle and shattering glass in his face. A description of the vehicle was given officers.

Shortly after the incident, Cassandra Becerra, 3704 Franklin Ave., said her auto was stopped in traffic on Johnson Road at Franklin Avenue, a car passed on the right and a man threw something, striking her vehicle and damaging the trim and paint on a door. The car allegedly matched the description given by the previous caller, police said.

Both Allen and the juvenile were charged with two counts of battery and one count of criminal damage to property.

In a court appearance, Allen pleaded guilty and was fined $1,500 and ordered to pay half the cost of restitution. The 16-year-old also entered a guilty plea and was fined $500 and told to pay half the restitution costs. He also was placed under two years of supervision on the criminal damage charge.

Both youths were ordered by the judge to write letters of apology to the victims and to pay the fines by Dec. 23.

LALACHE MEETS

Are there foods that should be avoided when breastfeeding babies?

"Can mothers go on diets while nursing?" These are many other questions will be answered with the latest medical research and personal experience at the Granite City La Leche League's next meeting to day at 7:30 p.m. at 36 Edward Drive. The discussion will include suggestions about nutrition for nursing mothers and their families, as well as information about weaning the breastfed baby.

All interested women are being invited and nursing babies are always welcome. For further information, mothers may call 931-6774.

Park District to apply for grant

The Granite City Park District Board of Park Commissioners, approved annexation of Lot 14 in Gorb's first addition with the address of 2325 Gary Ave., and approved approximately 16 requests to use the park facilities, during a meeting conducted last week.

President George Sykes presided at the session and announced an organizational board meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, May 4, at which time the newly elected commissioners will be seated.

A discussion followed on making application to the Department of Conservation, State of Illinois, for a grant with the small business administration for the purpose of landscaping projects in area parks.

Dave Nolen, superintendent of parks, said the committee is in the process of gathering information to decide where the grant money can best be utilized. Application forms and guidelines have not been received as yet but the grant money can only be used to plant trees, shrubs and flowers. All horticultural items must be purchased through a small business, he explained.

"Although the park district does not have all the information on what the monies will cover and the proper procedure in applying for the grant, we think there is a great possibility the park district can receive the funds Nolen added.

The first suggested project is to improve the Sieveking Gardens then to plant in Worthen Park, West Granite park and other neighborhood parks.

Although this is not the best time of the year for such a project the board feels with proper care of trees and shrubs the plantings can survive the hot summer, the park superintendent noted.

All request must be submitted this month, approved in June and all work completed by September to secure the grant, Nolen added.

3 get six-year terms for robbery

Six-year prison terms have been ordered for three Granite Cityans, Jeffrey A. Cox, 19, of 2124 Dewey Ave., Lyndon Smith, 18, of 2317 Illinois Ave., and Glendell Winter, 19, of 2432 Illinois.

All three were linked to a Dec. 30, 1982, armed robbery. Charges were filed by the State Division of Criminal Investigation against Smith and Winter and by Edwardsville police against Cox.

The sentences were ordered by Circuit Judge Paul J. O'Neill in April.

Guilt pleas had been submitted on April 4 by Smith and Cox and on April 14 by Winter.

28-month term in state prison

Dale Mason, 21, Alton, has been sentenced by Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill to serve two years and four months in a state prison.

It was alleged initially that he committed a Madison robbery occurring Nov. 27; this Dec. 20 charge later was reduced to theft from a person.

Brian Pfaff, 19, Godfrey, was charged Dec. 20 with participating in a Madison burglary on an unspecified date, and the charge subsequently was amended to criminal trespass to a vehicle. He pleaded guilty April 7.

Judge O'Neill placed him on 90-day probation, fined him $500 plus a $50 surcharge, and ordered Pfaff to perform 180 hours of public service employment.

ARRESTED AFTER PROPERTY DISPUTE

A broken engagement led to a dispute over property and the arrest of Tina L. Orasco, 18, of 3216 Country Plumb, who was charged last week with disorderly conduct, police reports said.

Officers were called to the 2600 block of Iowa Street, where Miss Orasco and Randy Long, 2566 Iowa St., were arguing and the woman Plumb was turned over some keys and leave the area.

After getting into her car, Miss Orasco allegedly called Long back to the vehicle and another argument ensued with officers required to separate the pair, reports said. She was released after posting a $52 cash bond.

BURGLAR TO PERFORM PUBLIC SERVICE WORK

For a burglary Jan. 22 in Jax Hill, 20, East Alton, has been sentenced to three years of probation, 150 days of public service work, a $500 fine, a $50 surcharge and restitution of $167.

Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill heard the case. A guilty plea was submitted in March.

FINED FOR DAMAGE IN MAY 1982 CASE

Frank Mickitt Sr., of 161 Voight Place, Mitchell, has been fined $420 and a $45 surcharge on each of two counts of petty theft to property.

Circuit Judge Philip Rarik received guilty pleas April 11, 1983, on the May 22, 1982, damage. The case was amended from an original allegation of burglary.

Unchanging rural England visited by the Stoevers

President Alice Purdes welcomed 35 members of Travelers Abroad to the April meeting last week. A special plaque was presented to Walter Klein for his 18 years of service to the organization and certificates of appreciation were given to last year's officers.

Program Chairman Ernest Rouland introduced Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stoever, who took the group on a photographic slide tour of Southwestern England. Stoever described the route on a map of England, and Mr. Stoever reported on scenes and towns visited.

"This was a restful trip," according to Mrs. Stoever, "because the distances covered daily were quite small - ranging from 40 miles to 150 miles." The tour emphasized rural areas of England.

Starting in the Cotswolds, with characteristic half-timbered-roof cottages made of limestone, the Stoevers found scenes little changed from several centuries ago.

Trees were seen in some areas that the squirrels could almost jump from one town to the next without touching the ground.

Several of the towns' names in that area started with the same word, "Chippin." This comes from the original word of "cheeping," which meant market.

Another bit of word study revealed that any town name that included "chester" or "cester" meant garrison.

The Wye Valley around the Wye River in Wales provided many bridges and numerous Roman arches which dated back to the 14th century.

While showing some of the ruins of abbeys, Mrs. Stoever said that this was an area where King Henry VIII and Cromwell caused much destruction.

Bath, with its famous abbey on the town square and the Roman baths with their healing mineral waters, draws hordes of tourists.

In the 17th and 18th centuries, persons went to Bath to be seen. Famous persons, including Wordsworth and Gainsborough, frequented the area.

Mrs. Stoever remarked that the trail of the Romans could be traced where they left Italy; they built large baths in various countries as they proceeded north.

Located near Cheddar are limestone cliffs which have a deep cleft in them. The author of the hymn, "Rock of Ages," is reported to have written the hymn while near these cliffs.

The cleft provided physical safety from storms as well as giving him a sense of spiritual safety.

Many cathedrals in southwestern England and south Wales feature Norman architecture, identifiable by its two square towers. One of the cathedrals pictured had 300 carved statues on the facade, making it look like lace.

In territory surrounding the Bristol Channel are many towns noted for their wool markets.

If one can stand on a hill and look down, he will find that the fields resemble pieced quilts, the different crops separated from each other by hedgerows, the club was told. The story of "Lorna Doone" comes from this area.

One of the towns has a street named "Downalong." It was so steep that neither bus nor car could travel it, so everyone had to walk down.

Proceeding even farther southwest, the tour passed through the Cornwall area, which was of more rugged terrain than at Devon.

One of the unusual sites was a weathervane which had a camel on its top instead of the customary rooster.

Passing through Penzance, made famous by the Gilbert and Sullivan "Pirates" opera, the tour members found there are many caves for pirates to hide their loot in. A different type of foliage revealed that this part of England is warmed by the Gulf Stream.

On the tip of the cliff at Land's End, there is a house bearing the inscription, "First and Last House in England." From this town, it is 3,000 miles to North America.

Plymouth Harbor is important in English history, was from there that Sir Francis Drake set out to defeat the Spanish Armada.

Long flights of steps leading down to the water indicate where the British sailed from as they left on the Mayflower in 1620 bound for America. Both British and American flags fly at this point.

As the scenes proceeded north again, Mrs. Stoever spoke of the cathedral at Salisbury. It was started in 1220 and was completed in one generation, a rarity for cathedrals, which frequently took several generations and even experienced changes in architectural styles while being built.

The steeple of the cathedral is over 400 feet tall. Because of its height and the fear of what vibrations might do to the steeple, the organist is not supposed to use low tones. And airplanes are not supposed to break the sound barrier around Salisbury. It was noted. The cathedral is also famous for the tower clock and for its copy of the Magna Carta.

Neddy is Stonehenge, famous for its arrangement of stones used to predict solar and lunar eclipses as well as to determine the best times for planting and harvesting crops.

The massiveness of the stones has led to many theories about their transportation to the area and the methods used to position the horizontal stones. Mrs. Stoever said.

Due to modern-day vandalism, the stones have been surrounded by rolls of barbed wire since about 1978. Before that, one could walk in and around the stones at will.

Winchester, once the capital of England and a center for wool trading, has an abbey with the same design as the one at Bath. Both were built at the same time.

Arriving back in London, the Stoevers again visited St. Paul's Cathedral, designed by Sir Christopher Wren, and saw Westminster Abbey, in which England's unknown soldier is buried. He represents one million who have died for England.

In summary, Mrs. Stoever said England is picturesque and has historical and literary qualities that would be difficult to beat.

"The country lanes and towns, as well as the castles, draw one there. The area has existed many centuries and very few changes are occurring," she concluded.

The club will meet May 23 before it takes a summer holiday.

Taught on the weekend format, classes will meet three weekends, May 5, 12 and 19, from 5 until 9 p.m. on Thursdays and Fridays and 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. on Saturdays.

For those who do not wish academic credit, the class (Environmental Education EL 2D 546-4) may be taken through the Educator Program. In addition to classroom lectures, the course will include several field trips - a cave experience, the collecting of artifacts and fossils, nature crafts, and a wild food cookout.

Instructor for the course is Bob Williams, well-known for his interest in the environment, metric system, national wildlife, wild foods, aerospace education and early childhood education. His columns on the benefits of living off the land, as well as the gathering and preparing of wild foods, have appeared in several publications, including All Outdoors.
